

Reflection of Baku Business University

Title: Study visit of Baku Business University within framework Erasmus + project

The purpose of the study visit: To be aware of latest challenges on higher education and the ways of enhancing quality on education

City, country: Stockholm, Sweden

Dates of visit: October 14-18, 2019

Group reporter: Javidan Heydarov

Trainings outcomes: As a result of trainings we acquainted with new approaches and challenges on higher education such as CDIO Initiative framework, Sustainable Development and the importance of its integration and implementation in education, peer instruction that enables to improve students learning etc. However CDIO program was intended for engineering students but it could be a good model and guideline to set up quality assurance standards and methodology to provide high quality in teaching, learning and especially in assessment of students by developing curriculum and course contents according to our study area. Moreover, to enhance higher education and meet with urgent needs of societies adequately require to consider and integrate Sustainable Development dimensions and goals in education. One of the most curious part of trainings were about various teaching tricks that will enable us to arrange classes cost-effective, actively and fairly which developed by Mr.Jacobs who is lecturer in KTH.

Agenda: firstly, welcome reception was really warm and kindly, as for trainings, subjects were defined well regarding new challenges in education and productive. As well, timeframe was really sufficient regarding covering intended topics properly and to take an active role during sessions.

Trainers: All trainers arranged their sessions enthusiastically to give their best. They used a number of workshops, hands on activities, teamworks, presentations to provide active participation of participants, they were willing to ask and to answer questions, to take feedback and make fruitful discussions.

Management: Sweden trainings was organized, managed and complete very well by the coordinator university. Everything was considered for convenience of participants.
